Limited PSLF Waiver: Toolkit for External Partners

On Oct. 6, 2021, the U.S. Department of Education (ED) announced a change to the Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) program rules for a limited time as a result of the COVID-19 national emergency. Millions of non-profit and government employees have federal student loans and may now be eligible for loan forgiveness or additional credit through the Limited PSLF Waiver. Under normal PSLF rules, borrowers must make 120 payments on a Direct Loan while on a qualifying repayment plan and employed by a qualifying public service employer. Now, for a limited period of time, federal student loan borrowers may receive credit for past periods of repayment that would otherwise not qualify for PSLF.

More specifically, under the waiver:

- Borrowers who have Federal Family Education Loans (FFEL), Perkins loans, or other federal student loans, can consolidate their loans into a Direct Consolidation Loan and receive PSLF credit for periods of repayment prior to consolidation. Periods of repayment on parent PLUS loans are not eligible under the limited PSLF waiver. Before consolidating, borrowers should check to see if they work for a qualifying employer using the PSLF Help Tool.
- Past periods of repayment will now count regardless of whether a borrower made a payment, or made that payment on time, for the full amount due, or on a qualifying repayment plan.

The waiver will run through October 31, 2022. That means some borrowers will need to consolidate and/or submit a PSLF form—the single application used for a review of employment certification, payment counts, and processing of forgiveness—on or before October 31, 2022, to have previously ineligible payments counted. After October 31, 2022, normal PSLF rules will apply.

We need your help to spread the word to your members and partners. Here are some suggestions of actions that your organization can take:

- Internal Messaging for Member and Subscriber Engagement: We have outlined a few actions you can take to inform members.
  - Send a monthly email to all members and subscribers letting them know of the benefits and asking them to post on social media or email you when they’ve received forgiveness. In follow-up emails, highlight stories from your own members and partners who have received loan forgiveness.
  - Highlight PSLF recipients on internal websites.
  - Display banners or side windows on internal website informing members about PSLF eligibility and the upcoming deadline.

- Social Media Campaigns: For example, your organization can use Twitter and Facebook to inform members and key partners that PSLF is available, how it can be used, and redirect links with specific information.

- Leadership Engagement: For example, as part of leadership level remarks, inform audiences of the PSLF program and the upcoming deadline. Or you can send an organization-wide email from a leadership account informing members of their PSLF eligibility.

- Press Activity: You can publish a blog informing members and stakeholders about the limited waiver, their potential eligibility, and directing them toward the PSLF website. You can also issue a press release announcing the upcoming PSLF deadline and encouraging members and subscribers to find out if they are eligible.

- Webinars: Work with Federal Student Aid (FSA) to set up informational webinars for your network about PSLF and the waiver. Please email Ashley.harrington@ed.gov to schedule these.

- Conferences and events: Host dedicated booths and workshops at conferences and events that provide real-time information and assistance for borrowers seeking to enroll.

TIME IS RUNNING OUT!

Do you have a federal student loan? If so, you may be able to benefit from temporary changes made to the Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) program. These changes, called the “Limited PSLF Waiver,” are helping borrowers across the nation more easily get their loans forgiven – but if you haven’t already applied for PSLF, you must submit a PSLF form and/or consolidate your non-Direct federal student loans by October 31 to get the benefit.

You can learn more about the waiver here. In short, the waiver will allow borrowers to gain additional PSLF credit, even if they had been told previously that they had the wrong loan type or the wrong repayment plan:

- The waiver gives borrowers credits for past periods of repayment on federal student loan – even loans that would otherwise not qualify for PSLF (i.e., Federal Family Education Loans (FFEL), Federal Perkins Loans, Federally Insured Student Loans (FISL), National Defense Student Loans (NDSL), and other types of federal loans that are not Direct Loans) - as long as the borrower consolidates into a federal Direct Loan.
- Past periods of repayment will now count whether or not you made that payment on time, for the full amount due, or on a qualifying repayment plan. The Department of Education will even count certain periods of forbearance toward PSLF.

There’s no specific application for the waiver – you will just need to submit a PSLF form by October 31. If you have non-Direct federal student loans, you’ll need to consolidate into a Direct Loan before October 31 too. Once you have submitted a PSLF form and consolidated into the Direct Loan program, you will be automatically opted into the waiver. This means that, if you qualify, you will lock in the benefits of the waiver and start accruing credit towards PSLF.

If you previously applied for PSLF and were denied because of your loan type, we encourage you to try again. If you previously applied for PSLF, we encourage you to update your employment certification by completing a PSLF form.

To take advantage of the waiver, you need to:

1. Register for an FSA ID if you don’t already have one at this link.
2. If you have Federal Family Education Loans (FFEL), Perkins loans, or other federal student loans including FISL or NDSL, you will need to consolidate your loans into a Direct Consolidation Loan to qualify for PSLF. Before consolidating, make sure to check to see if you work for a qualifying employer using the PSLF Help Tool. You can consolidate your loans if you need to at this link.
3. Submit a PSLF form to certify employment for PSLF that you want credit for through the waiver. You can generate a PSLF form at this link.
   - In the PSLF Help Tool, it’s important to use the appropriate Federal Employer Identification Number (EIN). Please check with your HR department for the correct EIN for your employer. You can also find it on your W-2.

Just a few minutes of your time may save you thousands of dollars on your student loans. Remember, you need to take the steps necessary to qualify for the Limited PSLF Waiver before October 31, 2022. Take advantage of the PSLF waiver TODAY!

Your organization may be an eligible PSLF employer (you can check your status here) and we need your help to ensure that every eligible government or non-profit employee is aware of the waiver and knows what they need to do to apply.

Attached is a toolkit you can use to promote the waiver to your employees and networks. The toolkit includes more information about the waiver as well as a sample email, borrower fact sheet, and social media graphics that you can use.

In addition to sharing the information via email and social media, you can work with the Department of Education to organize a webinar for your staff and stakeholders. If you are interested in hosting a webinar or have questions about the waiver, you can contact the Office of Federal Student Aid (fsaengagement@ed.gov).

Take Advantage of the Public Service Loan Forgiveness Waiver by October 31st!

Until Oct. 31, 2022, federal student loan borrowers can get credit for payments that previously didn’t qualify for Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF) or Temporary Expanded Public Service Loan Forgiveness (TEPSLF).

Under the limited PSLF waiver, you can get credit for past payments even if you:
- had or have a Federal Family Education Program (FFEL) loan or Perkins loan
- didn’t make the payment on time,
- didn’t pay the full amount due, or
- weren’t on a the right repayment plan.

Here’s what you can do to take advantage of the limited PSLF waiver.

1. Confirm your employer is qualified and submit a PSLF form.

   You must work for a qualified employer and submit a PSLF form in order to get PSLF credit. The waiver hasn’t changed this requirement. Check if your employer is certified and generate your PSLF form by using our PSLF Help Tool. Note that while we have more than 2.7 million employers in our database, coverage isn’t and won’t ever be at 100% and your employer may not be listed. Either way, you should still continue the form submission process.

   To get started, you must be logged in to your StudentAid.gov account. You’ll also need your employer’s Federal Employer Identification Number. You can find your EIN in box b of your W-2, or you can get it directly from your employer. To move through the PSLF Help Tool with ease, read “Becoming a PSLF Help Tool Ninja” before starting.

2. Consolidate your loans if you need to.

   To be considered for the limited PSLF waiver, you must have a Direct Loan. If you don’t, you have until Oct. 31, 2022, to consolidate your loans into a Direct Loan. Consolidation is when any or all of your federal student loans are combined, giving you one monthly payment. Check out our consolidation loan application to find out what you’ll need to apply.

   Keep in mind that there are pros and cons to consolidating. Learn what consolidating would mean for you before taking action. If you’re unsure of the status of your loan(s) or loan type(s), log in and check your Aid Summary.

3. Understand what the PSLF waiver changes.

   Our announcement explains how the limited PSLF waiver works and provides answers to frequently asked questions. But you can check out the table below for a quick summary of some key differences.
